

FALLING IN LOVE

We have been together since childhood so many things happened in between but didn't knew what was planned in our destiny until...

It was 18 feb 2024 the day we met again in our neighbour's function we talked very casually it was a pure coincidence that we met and talked...but a good thing happened that day... u texted me that night and I am really glad that u texted..then we talked in the night for hours..

This continues for many days... we shared so many things, played games.. watched a movie, listened songs ,shared secrets.. but we didn't knew what destiny has planned for us.. maybe at that time we have developed feelings too.. which were kept hidden for many years which we didn't knew they were still there..until..

25 march 2024... our first holi as friends... but these holi days were special because this was the time I realised that I have some feelings for you....that maybe we can give it a shot(nonu helped u remember that right).

It was 2 april 2024 we finally expressed our feelings.. the most beautiful moment of my life for which I m thankful for that we decide to do this....but u said to me "Let's not name this relationship we will date but will not name it" then I thought "Is he out of his mind.. does he want friends with benefit kind of relationship" I was little mad after listening to that but still I said okay... cause I knew u were was scared... then in the evening I met you.. we shared a walk.. I was feeling shy at that time...but at night we finally decide to name our relationship...

On the very next day we held hands for the first time it was so magical...that I can't explain....still can feel that very moment.....

This continues for some days... we talked and talked... and walk at the night....then..

On 15 april 2024 in your house with the excuse of finding lock and key that is funny right...we shared our first kiss, our first hug...the day I can never forget.....but that day after the kiss a funny incident happened u said pom pom... I was like.. is he out of his mind...asking for this... it was so early to do this...I was feeling shy...

Then our beautiful life continues with your struggle for asking pom pom....I bet u remember some imp dates...like 19 april, 2 may, 4 may, 11 may, 12 may.....these dates captures our beautiful moments , memory and our date at temple too (sorry bhagwaan jii).....

Then 20 may 2024 - 22 may 2024...this was the most memorable, most beautiful, most lovable time of my life...the first time we stayed together in Jaipur spent the nights we each other, had a peaceful sleep, created memories, watched movie together, had fun.....I wish I could go back to that time...I miss those days....

Then some more imp days when we shared our lovely moments...7 june, 15 june, 17 july... as far as I remember.... Then our cute moments continues.....

In august u went to your college... start your new life.....

From here our long distance relationship starts...the most toughest part.. which I hate the most.. but for u I can do anything.... I love u soo much baby.

In September I start my journey too and its also my birthday month... I wish I could spent my birthdays with you...I know this was/is not possible for now...but I wish I could spent my coming birthdays with you....

25 sep 2024 this is the most special day for me... u told me that u have liked me since 18 august Monday 2014.... knowing this I was over the moon....

In the mean time our love grows stronger and stronger....

31 october 2024 ... our very first Diwali after being in love...we wore matching fit ..and spent the Diwali night together.. walked to the market....

29 nov 2024 your birthday... I wish I could spend this day with you love...but its okay we already did pre birthday celebration for you birthday.. u remember that right..

Then 12 dec 2024 ... u must have remembered right.... Our very first date....in Jaipur.. where we spent the whole day together....at Amber fort, near Jal Mahal, explore city palace, and had food at café...with the best third wheeler Rudransh.....ohh how can I forget that... remember the beautiful moments and time we spent together... and the flower bouquet u gave me... my very first flower from my loved one.....the unforgettable day...

Back to long distance....

31 dec 2024 the last day of the year... we spent the day together had a pic with our close friends...created some memories...

Finally this year ended with beautiful moments and memories... and most imp... I got you.. the love of my life....meeting u was the best moment of my life...

Back to long distance while creating memories...

18 feb 2025 one year completed...since we started talking....

14 march 2025 our first holi as lovers... the holi of love...the pure love...

Then 2 april 2025 our one year anniversary love...but we can't celebrate it together...but it's okay maybe in the future.... this one year completed with so many arguments, fights misunderstandings...but still at the end we realised that we can't live without each other...

I love u soo much love that I can't even express... I know I am too possessive but trust me I can do anything for u... I will always be there for you and will always love you.

I love u Tanishq

- YOUR LOVE RIYA
